Message from the Chancellor

Congratulations on your achievement and upcoming graduation! It is a milestone to be celebrated, particularly after all the years of study and hard work you invested to earn your degree. It is a remarkable accomplishment that reflects your dedication to continually strive for excellence in your life and career.

With great pleasure, I invite you, your families and friends to attend the commencement ceremony scheduled for 11:30 a.m. on Saturday, May 5, 2012 at the Memorial Auditorium/Sacramento Convention Center located at 1515 J Street in Sacramento, California.

This is your opportunity to graduate with your peers and take pride in earning your degree from Brandman or Chapman University. As this special occasion approaches, we offer our congratulations and appreciation to the members of your family as well, who helped you on your journey.

We look forward to seeing you in cap and gown on May 5th and hope you will stay involved with your alma mater.

Sincerely,

Gary Brahm

Message from the Vice Chancellor of Academic Affairs

Congratulations on your upcoming graduation! Although you are only a few weeks from the spring semester, your sights are likely set on May 5th, when you, your families and friends will celebrate the awarding of your degree.

We view commencement as both a celebration of our students' achievements and recognition of the families and friends who supported them. On behalf of the entire faculty, we look forward to sharing this proud moment with our graduates. We also look forward to welcoming you to the Brandman and Chapman alumni community, individuals who are leading and serving throughout the world.

Best wishes,

Charles A. Bullock
