

Director of the Family Psychiatric Mental Health Nurse Practitioner Program

Since 1958, Brandman University (formerly University College of Chapman University) has been a leader in offering working adults personalized and practical educational opportunities at 25 campuses in California and Washington. Brandman University is a private, non-profit institution fully accredited by WASC and a member of the Chapman University System. In Fall 2010 Brandman will introduce two new degree programs in nursing: an Associate degree to BSN and a Doctor of Nursing Practice degree with an entry at the BSN and post-master levels. Brandman has focused on developing a unique curriculum approach for these two degree programs, using a blended format of face to face instruction and distance learning. This approach encompasses critical thinking skills; core technology training; and an emphasis on patient-centered inquiry based, collaborative and innovative practice to equip nurses to succeed in today's fast-paced health care environment.

Brandman University seeks a Director/full-time faculty position within the School of Nursing and Health Professions which is located in Irvine, California. All Faculty positions are non-tenure track, hired at the appropriate rank for education and experience. Full-time positions offer competitive salaries.

Responsibilities of Brandman University Faculty include curriculum development and teaching, mentoring students and adjunct faculty and community outreach. Research is not required but is supported.

The ideal candidate will have:

- A PhD or DNP in Nursing
- Licensure as a Registered Nurse and an Advanced Practice Nurse in the State of California
- National Certification as a Psychiatric Mental Health Nurse Practitioner with Pediatric or Family
- Experience or Certification as a Family Psychiatric Mental Health Nurse Practitioner
- Recent Clinical Experience
- Experience working with DNP or PhD students and projects
- Experience with application of evidence into clinical practice
- Experience with distance learning and academic technology
- Commitment to working with adult students

This position will begin in June of 2010 and applications will be accepted until the position is filled.

If you want to apply your nursing experience and passion for blended and adult learning in an environment that is student centered and values integrity, collaboration, and innovation, please submit a resume and a copy of your graduate transcript to Dr. Renée McLeod, Dean, School of Nursing and Health Professions, facultyhire@brandman.edu.
